12 different titles. 118 centimetres long – a few children can paint it at the same time. A convenient format – the colouring book is foldable, so a child can paint only a part of the colouring book. The background is coloured-in – children see the picture at once and they do not have to paint the background (children often get discouraged when they have to colour a lot of background).

Colouring books differ from each other. Some are more complicated and some less so they can be selected according to the child's age. Every colouring book has a different topic. Humorous paintings with many details. On the back of each colouring book children will find a story about the topic connected with the painting. These colouring books include imaginative tasks, which develop a child's ability to draw and observe.

- each book comes with an attractive envelope – perfect as a gift
- different topics to appeal to various children including jungles, dinosaurs, winter, space, sport, princes and princesses, holidays, theme parks, pirates and the underwater world
- fantastic illustrations ensure hours of coloring fun
