Dachshund Hipolit Cable is very moody. Sometimes he is sad. Once in a while he gets angry and he's often in a pensive mood. One time he even exploded (fortunately no harm was done). Everyone who is his friend must be very patient, kind and sensitive. Is there anyone like this?

Fortunately yes. Alojzy Kettledrum the cat will do everything for Hipolit. He will look for his lost good humour, bring his favourite sausages and even give him his own dream.

These funny stories are full of humour, suitable for both children and adults.

The action in this book takes place in a the contemporary world well-known to children. Hipolit uses the internet. He and his friend communicate by sending each other text messages.

- a story of the friendship between a moody dog and a wise cat
- witty and humorous stories and illustrations (for children and adults)
- the book, although about animals, is set in the contemporary reality known to children (rather than a fictitious world): Hipolit checks the dog portal on the Internet, animals text and send each other nice photos
- the book was created by an acclaimed author of children's books (Roksana Jędrzejewska-Wróbel) and a great illustrator (Grażyna Rigall)
- the page numbering is integrated with the illustrations, making it fun for kids
